

Going by foot easily

We would like to take the opportunity of presenting our new appliance ActiveDogTrainer. That appliance work with a new reward system which supports the dog's learning ability, attention and learning motivation with great success.

When the dog's muzzle touches the device (please spread some sausage on to it as an incentive), this triggers a buzzing sound, marking approval of the dog's current action or attitude (basic position, walking to heel, or in response to the commands 'change side' or 'sit there').

This results in the deliberate conditioning of the animal, making it more active and more highly motivated.

Special features of the ActiveDogTrainer:

The appliance is very sensitive and reacts at the slightest contact. This makes starting easy.
